| Telent as our service delivery contractor has been through an extensive and compliant EU procurement process equality is a key component of the process.   |               |              |              |                       |  |             |  |  |
| A number of the activities set out in the Strategy enable wider change in policy or service delivery. Whilst key IT may only be one component of that change, EIAs will be supported by the ITG and carried out as part of the approval of that wider policy or service delivery change as part of the project managers responsibilities as detailed in the mitigation actions attached. |               |              |              |                       |  |             |  |  |
| A key equality benefit of this strategy if deliver will be increased flexibility to staff we understand this to have a positive impact on a number of protected Characteristics.   |               |              |              |                       |  |             |  |  |
