2.	a. Main purpose of PPADS:	The IT Strategy outlines how the IT of ESFA has to change to maintain support of the ESFA business strategy together with suggesting programmes of work, financials to support and the general approach to strategy delivery. This is an IT Strategy rather than a customer / access to services strategy and therefore its focus is primarily on internal use of IT to enable / facilitate the delivery of services and therefore the primary impact will be on our own staff rather than the community. The majority of the activities that will be carried out as a result of the strategy will be where IT forms one element of a wider change in service or policy e.g. SHQ Relocation and it is anticipated that EIAs will be carried out at the stage that the service or policy change is approved. IT specific projects will be assessed and EIAs carried out in line with our corporate policy.	b. Project Manager and Process owner:	Dan Drummond Interim ITG Manager
	c. Project/processes this PPADS is linked to:	IT Governance Integrated Risk Management Plan (IRMP) wide range of corporate projects with IT requirements
3	List the information, data or evidence used in this analysis:	IRMP Senior Management engagement, engagement with key internal users / business process owners. Telnet EU Procurement Process Documents Workforce Diversity Data

If medium or high range results were identified who was consulted and what recommendations were given?
Describe the overall decision on this Policy, Procedure, Activity, Service or Decision:
Telnet as our service delivery contractor has been through an extensive and compliant EU procurement process equality is a key component of the process.
A number of the activities set out in the Strategy enable wider change in policy or service delivery. Whilst key IT may only be one component of that change, EIAs will be supported by the ITG and carried out as part of the approval of that wider policy or service delivery change as part of the project managers responsibilities as detailed in the mitigation actions attached.
A key equality benefit of this strategy if deliver will be increased flexibility to staff we understand this to have a positive impact on a number of protected Characteristics.
List all actions identified to address/mitigate negative risk or promote positively
